DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claim 13 provides for the use of a bleaching composition, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-6 and 14-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 10130695.

JP '695 disclose a bleaching composition for use fabric treating compositions comprising 0.1 to 10% by weight of a ketone peroxide; and 5 to 80% by weight of sodium peroxide or sodium perborate (see abstract).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 7-10, 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reinehr et al (2001/0003737) in view of JP 10130695.

Reinehr et al disclose a fabric bleaching composition comprising perborates; peroxy bleach precursors such as tetraacetyl ethylene diamine (TAED); and other adjunct materials such as builders and surfactants (0028-0052).

Reinehr et al lack a teaching of an organic peracid such as ketone peroxide.

JP '695 is relied upon as set forth above.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to include the ketone peroxide of JP '695 to the compositions of Reinehr et al because Reinehr et al invite the inclusion of peroxy components (0028) and JP '695 teach that ketone peroxide is well known for bleaching textiles and Reinehr et al specifically teach the use of said peroxy compounds for fabric bleaching (abstract). Therefore, absent a showing to the contrary, one of ordinary skill would have been motivated to combine the reference to include the ketone peroxide because only synergistic and/or beneficial bleaching results would have been obtained.

5. Claims 11-12 and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Loffelman et al (3,986,972) in view of JP '695.
6. Loffelman et al disclose a bleaching composition comprising peroxy compounds such as ketone peroxide, perborates, percarbonates and mixture thereof (col. 2; lines 60-68). Loffelman et al further teach the inclusion of additional components such as enzymes and detergents (col. 3, lines 20-35) to aid in the bleaching/laundry process.
7. Loffelman et al lack a teaching of the proportions of the ketone peroxide.
8. JP '695 is relied upon as set forth above.
9. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the ketone peroxide of Loffelman et al in an amount of 0.1 to 10% by weight as suggested by JP '695 because JP '695 teaches the ketone peroxide in said amount are effective in bleaching textiles and Loffelman et al is specifically used of for bleaching textiles in various applications. Accordingly the amount as claimed would have been obvious, absent a showing to the contrary.
